

Lexion

www.lexion.co.uk

Matt Reville
ILSA Conference 2008
St Patrick's College

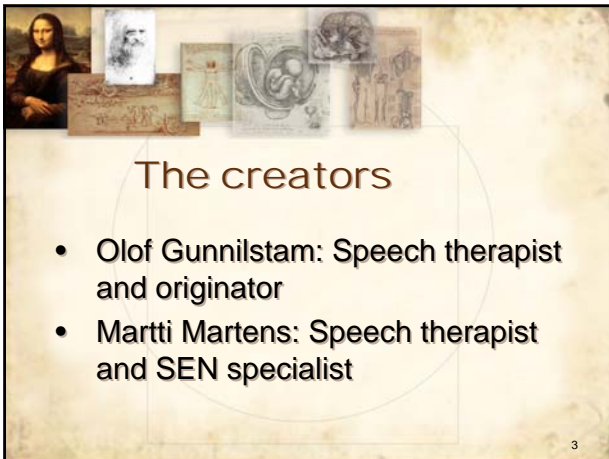

1

Lexion

2

The creators

- Olof Gunnilstam: Speech therapist and originator
- Martti Martens: Speech therapist and SEN specialist

3

Why Lexion?

- Combines proven exercises with adaptable assessment and reporting tool
- Highly motivating for pupils with a wide range of difficulties
- Cost-effective solution for combining assessment and exercises
- Ability to provide pupils with exercises at home for no extra cost
- Uses for Mini Lexion

4

Interactive whiteboard

5

Laptop or desktop

6

Motivation

As Karen puts it, “I could have done the same activity with flashcards, but the children would have cooperated for a tenth of the time. Using Lexion provides the children with dynamic activities that allow them to move around, touch the screen and cooperate with each other. This increases their motivation, and makes it more likely that they will remember and learn.”

7

Lexion in practice

- easy to set-up.
- 10-15 minutes to run an assessment and create a unique set of exercises.
- Can be used with a wide range of difficulties from poor reading skills, ESL pupils, auditory processing to ADHD.
- Not just for dyslexia from 5 to adults.

8

Lexion in practice

- Learning curve to understand the program
- Time needed to absorb the wide range of possibilities in Lexion.
- But once familiar with it day to day tasks are simple.
- Verbal statements useful for the IEP.
- They comply with the SMART Targets

9

Lexion

10

Final Word On Lexion

- Lexion is a comprehensive and innovative piece of software.
- Lexion was developed by a design team who listened to pupils and teacher needs
- based on sound practice and designed with attention to details.
- Being updated constantly

11